

To whom it may concern

I have known Wayne Bainbridge professionally for almost 10 years working with him whilst he was a Senior Engineer at Totty Construction Group and most recently whilst he was working on our prestigious Mediacity Project in Salford.

Wayne's involvement on the Project was the provision of engineering services to the appointed site wide utility contractor. Whilst carrying out this role Wayne's contribution played a big part in a number of successful Key handovers which were detrimental to the overall success of the project as a whole. I can quite categorically say his dedicated design input and coordination of the entire Sub structure works, which were one of the most difficult elements of this project, were second to none.

I have found Wayne to be very proficient in his disciplines of Land Surveying, Site Engineering, CAD drawings and Site Management and he would be an asset to any would be employer. I am pleased to recommend him and his company to those in this field and wish him every success.
